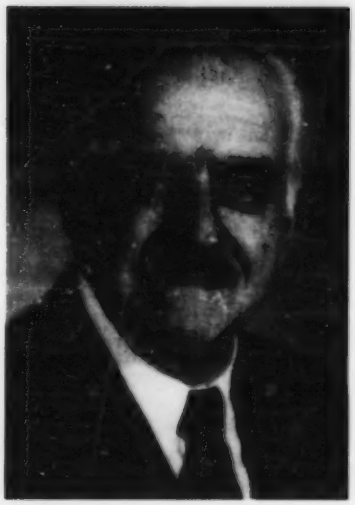
MINISTER'S MESSAGE



It is my privilege to serve as the Minister responsible for Saskatchewan Housing Corporation.

Housing is a crucial aspect of a person's health, well-being and quality of life. Moreover, housing is the foundation of strong, vibrant neighbourhoods and communities.

Saskatchewan is one of the few provinces to have increased its provincial contribution to social housing in recent years. In 2000, the Province announced an additional $5 million per year for four years from the Centenary Fund to help meet the housing needs of low-to-moderate-income seniors, families and persons with disabilities. The Centenary Fund was established to help accelerate social housing and a variety of other important capital projects over the next four years, leading up to Saskatchewan's Centenary in 2005.

The federal government has recently given us reason to be cautiously optimistic that it will again become involved in housing. I look forward to working with my federal counterparts in the months ahead to bolster our relationship in the area of social housing and forge a new partnership on behalf of the people of Saskatchewan.

The involvement of Saskatchewan people in our province's social and affordable housing system has always been the key to our success. I thank our stakeholders for their involvement in our consultations and other endeavours. I commend them, SHC staff, and the volunteers of the province's 300 housing authorities, co-operatives, non-profit agencies and other partners for their dedication and effort throughout the year, making it possible for nearly 67,000 people in need to have quality, affordable housing. By continuing to work together, we will continue to build healthy, sustainable communities.

I am honoured to submit the 2000 annual report of the Saskatchewan Housing Corporation.

Ron Osika

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Each day, Saskatchewan Housing Corporation works to provide housing and housing services for seniors, families, persons with disabilities, and others who could not otherwise afford safe, quality shelter.

In 2000, SHC met the housing needs of 67,000 lower-income Saskatchewan people in nearly 350 communities. We accomplished this by collaborating with a wide range of stakeholders and through operating agreements with more than 450 organizations, including local housing authorities, housing co-operatives and non-profit agencies.

This past year, we continued to respond to changes within the province's housing environment. Research, as well as consultation with a wide range of stakeholders from the private and non-profit sectors, advocacy groups, housing authorities, and various provincial departments, confirmed that we should continue to place priority on maintaining the existing housing stock in the province. The consultations helped identify important challenges in trying to ensure that all Saskatchewan people have a place to call home. The challenges are great. However, as we identify and act on opportunities to leverage our financial and human resources, we build our capacity to respond and to make a difference.

SHC and our partners have evolved from a focus on property management to one that also provides supportive environments and services and promotes self-sufficiency. We are encouraged by the success of recent programs, such as Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services (SALS), that help seniors maintain their independence and continue living in their own homes, as well as the Neighbourhood Home Ownership (NHOP) and the Northern Remote Housing programs, that assist lower- and moderate-income families to become homeowners. In addition, life lease projects are enabling seniors to use the equity in their homes to access accommodations more suited to their needs.

By continuing to take partnership and community development approaches, being vigilant with our resources, and working with our clients to increase their independence, we build a brighter housing future for Saskatchewan people.

CORPORATE PROFILE

Saskatchewan Housing Corporation: An overview

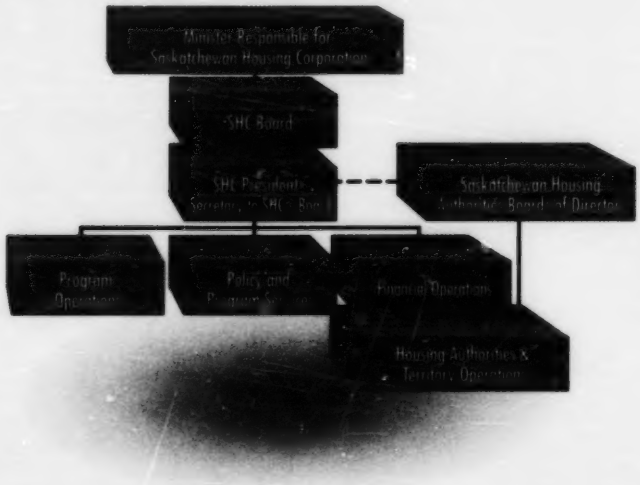
Saskatchewan Housing Corporation (SHC) is an agency of Saskatchewan Municipal Affairs and Housing. SHC provides housing services for seniors, families and others who could not otherwise afford safe, secure shelter. This is achieved by working in collaboration with a range of stakeholders and through operating agreements with more than 450 organizations, including local housing authorities, housing co-operatives and non-profit agencies.

By working with these organizations and the private-sector housing industry, we are better able to respond to local housing challenges. While recognizing that the market is the primary vehicle for providing quality, affordable housing in Saskatchewan, SHC complements the work of the housing industry by making housing rental and ownership accessible to those who could not otherwise afford it.

Among our diverse responsibilities, we set up and provide guidance for volunteer housing authority boards; develop policies to guide the effective management of social housing; and manage the financial contributions of the federal, provincial and municipal levels of government to social housing programs.

In 2000, SHC's operating costs of $160 million were funded by tenant rents, the province's General Revenue Fund, Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) and municipalities.

Organizational Structure



Areas of responsibility

The Minister responsible for SHC establishes local housing authorities and appoints the volunteer board members who direct them.

The SHC Board and officers provide strategic direction and are responsible for achieving our objectives and fulfilling our mandate.

SHC's organizational structure includes three branches: Policy and Program Services, Financial Operations, and Program Operations. These branches have diverse responsibilities, but share the goal of using limited resources effectively to make housing and related services accessible to people in need. Our many responsibilities include: research and policy development, analysis of economic and demographic trends, developing business plans, managing operating agreements, providing technical services, collaborating with stakeholders and other departments and agencies, establishing financial policies and supporting business information systems.

Housing authorities, territory operations and other housing partners

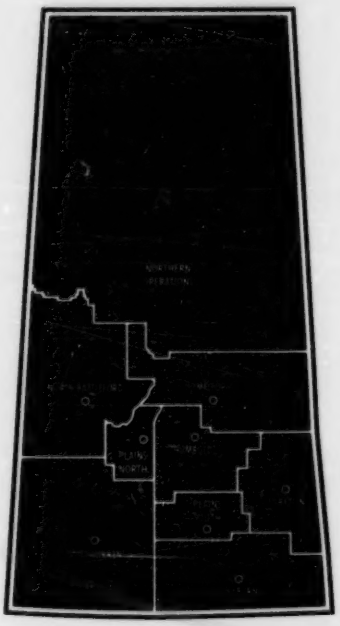
Housing authorities, territory operations and other housing partners provide a network responsible for the day-to-day management of housing units and the coordination of services to tenants.

Community-based housing authorities, led by volunteer boards of directors, manage social and affordable housing projects on behalf of SHC. Dedicated volunteers are integral to the ongoing success of Saskatchewan's social housing system. Community management enables local people to respond to local situations—which can vary greatly in a province as geographically and demographically diverse as ours.

Housing authorities are supported by territory operations, which provide technical assistance, manager and board member training, housing services coordination, and financial and information services for housing authorities.

Other partners include non-profit organizations, housing co-operatives and private landlords who own and manage housing for low-to-moderate-income tenants. SHC also works with community associations to deliver housing programs, and with the departments of Health and Social Services to integrate housing with other services.

Territory Operations

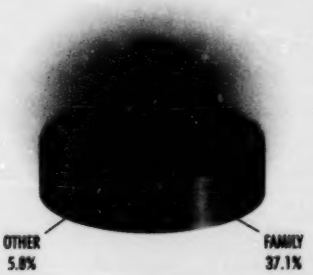


Housing units throughout Saskatchewan

SHC is responsible for a portfolio of nearly 32,000 housing units in 348 communities. Of these, 1,800 are directly managed by SHC, 18,000 are directly managed by housing authorities, and more than 12,000 are delivered through management and operating agreements with non-profit groups and co-operatives.

Social housing helps ensure that low-income seniors and families, as well as persons with disabilities, have access to safe and secure shelter.

Social Housing Units by Client Group Served



Affordable housing provides affordable rents for modest-income households, and also includes housing operated by other provincial agencies for use as group homes, transition shelters and special care homes.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

In consultation with diverse stakeholder groups, SHC is undertaking the challenge of sustaining and revitalizing the housing system in Saskatchewan. Our commitment to consultation was reinforced by the successful northern housing consultations in 1999. These consultations directly contributed to a number of northern housing initiatives in 2000 (see article on page 14). Motivated in part by the success of the northern consultations, SHC conducted four southern housing workshops in June, 2000. The sessions were held in North Battleford, Yorkton, Regina and Saskatoon, and were attended by more than 115 delegates representing about 100 stakeholder organizations from the public, private, non-profit and volunteer sectors.

▲ SHC conducted housing workshops in Regina (pictured), Saskatoon, Yorkton and North Battleford in June, 2000. The sessions were attended by more than 115 delegates representing about 100 stakeholder organizations from the public, private, non-profit and volunteer sectors.

Through our consultations we found that housing clients, representatives from the disability community, bankers, private developers, aboriginal representatives, municipal officials, seniors, health care providers, and others share our conviction that housing is essential to a good quality of life and that we all have a vested interest in ensuring that adequate affordable housing is available for all Saskatchewan people. Stakeholders told us that the following themes were important to them:

- Partnerships. The province's key role in housing should be to facilitate capacity and partnership within and among stakeholders and communities. The province should help strengthen communities and promote sustainability in meeting housing needs.
- Community responsiveness. Local communities desire an increased role in program development and service delivery. Provincial housing initiatives should have the flexibility to support local people in meeting local needs.
- Responsibility and accountability. Responsibility and accountability for the kind of society we live in must be shared among all levels of government, the private sector, community and non-profit groups, housing clients and individual citizens.

- Independence and self-sufficiency. Assisted and subsidized housing should be used as a means to foster self-sufficiency, not as a long-term solution for shelter.
- Needs-based assistance. The key criterion for providing housing assistance should be economic need.
- Linkages. Housing should be linked to other provincial departments and non-government agencies to enable people to more easily access supports that will increase their independence and self-sufficiency.
- Sustainability. Housing polices and programs need to be sustainable over the long-term.
- Quality of life. The ultimate goal of housing policies and programs should be to stabilize and improve the quality of life of individuals, neighbourhoods and communities.
- Targeted intervention. Housing resources should be directed where they are likely to have the greatest impact.
- Resources. Public, private and non-profit resources should be leveraged and efficiently and effectively administered to maximize resources available for housing.

▲ SHC received the 2000 Corporate Citizen of the Year Award from the Real Estate Institute of Canada (REIC). The award is given once a year to the corporation that demonstrates its recognition and support of the Institute's goals and objectives by encouraging employees to pursue a REIC designation, by hiring REIC members, and/or by sponsoring in-house REIC courses and seminars. Mark Bell (left), Yorkton Territory Manager and REIC President-Elect, made the presentation to SHC President Peter Hoffmann at an SHC-sponsored workshop for larger housing authorities.

Information received at the workshops is being used to better define relationships among stakeholders, as well as to develop responses to critical housing issues in Saskatchewan.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE FOR SENIORS

Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services (SALS)

SALS was introduced to meet the needs of a growing population of seniors, who require a combination of shelter and support services to maintain their independence. SALS was designed to be responsive to local needs. Since its introduction, it has been adapted to suit the needs of seniors living in social housing projects in diverse communities throughout the province. Through this community-based service, tenants living in senior social housing are being supported to live independently. With financial and administrative support from SHC, housing authorities coordinate the delivery of five optional services: organization of social and recreational activities, personal response system, laundry, housekeeping, and up to one nutritional meal per day. Meals are served in congregate dining areas where tenants can dine and enjoy each other's company. These services are available at an affordable fee-for-service basis.

Through SALS, community-based services are available to more than 4,400 tenants in more than 40 communities.

In 2000, SALS was launched at various housing projects, including Golden Acres in Outlook, Parkview Manor in Spy Hill, High Park Towers in Moose Jaw, and Heritage Towers and Prairie View Lodge in Swift Current. Many communities have adapted SALS to meet local needs.

Rocanville adult day program

In Rocanville, SALS is being used to extend the existing adult day program at Prairie View Lodges to a wider group of people.

The Rocanville adult day program provides seniors and persons with a disability with planned activities, as well as services such as a noon meal, foot care, and assisted bathing. Services are provided in conjunction with the Pipestone Health District. The program has been successful in Rocanville, with 90 per cent of the tenants at Prairie View Lodges participating in the weekly meals.

Terrence Jordan participates in the adult day program once a week. "I come down for a hot meal and then I socialize with some of the tenants afterwards," Terrence says. "I really look forward to it."

Scott Forget Towers addition and renovation

An important project for Saskatoon seniors in 2000 was the renovation and expansion of Scott Forget Towers. The work was undertaken to provide seniors with greater opportunity to engage in social and recreational activities and to access support services that contribute to their independence and quality of life.

The project resulted in expanded and improved facilities for more than 275 Saskatoon seniors. Improvements included an expanded kitchen facility to accommodate a meal program under SALS. Additional bathrooms and a bright, new multi-purpose room for social and recreation activities were also constructed.

CREATIVE SENIORS' HOUSING

The life lease concept

More Saskatchewan seniors will have access to affordable housing through an innovative funding arrangement involving the provincial Centenary Fund, SHC, Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), the cities of Regina and Saskatoon, and the seniors themselves. The Centenary Fund was established to help accelerate social housing and a variety of other important capital projects over the next four years, leading up to the province's Centenary in 2005.

Both developments—Arbor Green in Saskatoon and Benson Manor in Regina—will be 50-unit life lease complexes designed for seniors age 55 and up. To qualify, prospective residents must have an annual income of no more than $28,125 for a couple or $23,150 for an individual.

Both developments are based on the "life lease" concept, whereby seniors invest equity from their former homes in return for a life lease on their unit. The purchase price in these types of developments represents only a portion of actual unit costs and is fully refundable within 90 days of the senior giving up occupancy of his or her unit. Residents pay a monthly occupancy fee, which is kept at a "break even" level. By providing a life lease deposit, the residents share, in a meaningful way, in the cost of development.

Life lease projects not only provide seniors with an opportunity to remain in their neighborhoods and communities, they also revitalize the communities by making quality, affordable housing available to younger families and individuals when the seniors sell their former homes.

Arbor Green

The pilot project for the life lease concept in Saskatchewan is Arbor Green in Saskatoon, which is being constructed on the site of the old sanatorium. The project is supported by the Holiday Park Community Association.

Benson Manor

This project will be located on the former Benson School site in Regina. Construction of the project will begin in early 2001 with completion scheduled for early 2002. The non-profit Transcona Housing Association will be responsible for the marketing and ongoing operation of the project after completion.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE FOR HOMEOWNERS AND RENTERS

Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (RRAP)

This program provides financial assistance to low-income homeowners who cannot afford the repairs necessary to make their homes safer and healthier. Assistance is available to bring a house up to minimum health and safety standards, to modify a house to accommodate special needs, or to rural residents for emergency repairs. Landlords renting to low-income households can also apply for a forgivable loan to rehabilitate their property. Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) cost-shares this program on a 75-25 per cent basis with SHC, which administers the spending of RRAP dollars in Saskatchewan.

In 2000, 458 homes were repaired under RRAP and another 192 were modified to meet the needs of people with disabilities. Ninety-one of these repaired or modified homes were located in northern Saskatchewan.

In recent years, RRAP funding has more than doubled. As a result, SHC has been able to extend RRAP funding to a variety of important projects.

Waterston Centre

Funding was committed in 2000 to the Salvation Army's Waterston Centre for homeless men in Regina for a variety of renovations to improve the building's health and safety standards, as well as provide accessibility to persons with disabilities. Renovations will include lighting upgrades, the installation of fire doors and various other fire safety enhancements, as well as the construction of an elevator, wheelchair ramps, and handicapped-accessible washrooms.

"The renovations will help us better meet the physical needs of our clients," says Captain David Craddock, Public Relations Director of the Salvation Army in Regina. "Such improvements as showers, laundry, and renovated rooms will aid in the comfort and well-being of those who use the facility."

Pleasant Hill Place

Another RRAP initiative that was completed in 2000 was the Pleasant Hill Place project in Saskatoon. Thanks to this unique cooperative effort, five young Saskatoon mothers, ages 16-21, and their children are now living under the same roof—planning and preparing meals together, watching each other's children, and helping each other with homework. The house where the mothers and children live has nine bedrooms, as well as a play area.

The Pleasant Hill project only became possible through the cooperation and involvement of a number of community groups. The school boards came up with the idea; SHC and CMHC provided funding under RRAP to renovate the house; St. Mary's Credit Union arranged the mortgage; the West Side Community Clinic provides services; and the Quint Development Corporation manages the property and provides staff for ongoing support.

The young mothers attend Nutana Collegiate and have been able to continue their education thanks to the project and the support they receive from each other. They pay their rent using their Social Services living allowance.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN NEIGHBOURHOODS

Neighbourhood Home Ownership Program (NHOP)

This program helps provide suitable, affordable housing for low-to-moderate-income families. Qualifying families form co-operatives and purchase homes in mature urban neighbourhoods, with SHC and the municipality providing funding through a forgivable equity loan. Renovation grants are also available for emergency repairs. After five years, families that have successfully leased their home may assume ownership from the co-operative.

To date, more than 120 homes have been purchased under NHOP, helping to rejuvenate inner-city communities in Regina, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw and Prince Albert. In 2000, NHOP put another 52 families on the path to home ownership.

A successful NHOP co-operative is New Start, which purchased and renovated nine homes in northeast Regina in 1999. New Start president Rhonda Parisian says the co-op was created by herself and four other area residents in order to help their community.

"I've lived here all my life and I wanted to put something back," Rhonda says. "We heard about the NHOP program through the North East Community Association and it sounded like an excellent opportunity to enhance the community. We just decided we were going to do it and make it work."

Rhonda says the five-year period that precedes the transfer of title enables the co-operatives to teach NHOP families what they need to know about home ownership before they assume the entire responsibility for the property.

"It's like an apprenticeship," she says. "They learn what it takes to be a homeowner in terms of making your mortgage payments every month and budgeting for upkeep and maintenance. They learn how to maintain and look after a house."

During the first five years, the co-operative is there to provide NHOP families with guidance, information and support, Rhonda says, adding that many of the New Start families are already looking forward to assuming ownership of their homes in 2003.

"A lot of our families have done some exceptional things in terms of renovating their homes," she says. "And they've learned a whole lot about being homeowners along the way. They can hardly wait until the title is transferred and the house is truly theirs."

MAKING A DIFFERENCE ACROSS SASKATCHEWAN

▲ In December, 2000, Mrs. Grace Howse (pictured) became the newest tenant in High Park Towers at 220 High Street East, a social housing project in Moose Jaw. Mrs. Howse and her husband lived at that same address for many years, prior to selling the property to SHC for the development of High Park Towers.

Cedar Village, Prince Albert

Tightening rental markets in Saskatchewan's major urban centres have reduced the amount of affordable rental housing in recent years. To help address this situation, SHC has been contacting the owners of rental properties under the old CMHC Entrepreneurial Limited Dividend Program to explore their interest in selling.

The CMHC program encouraged the construction of a number of affordable rental projects in Saskatchewan cities in the 1960s and 1970s; however, most of the agreements covered by this program have expired or opt-out clauses have been exercised.

One such project was Cedar Village, a 72-unit apartment block in Prince Albert. SHC negotiated the purchase of this building in 2000, assuming ownership in November. None of the existing tenants were displaced and the units are currently being renovated.

The Cedar Village purchase will help ensure the availability of affordable housing for renters in Prince Albert. Cedar Village will be operated at a break-even basis and no long-term subsidies will be required.

North Battleford renovations

The River Heights Cottages in North Battleford received a new look inside and out in 2000 from major renovations. SHC assumed ownership of the cottages in 1999 from the Battleford Health District. The upgrades enabled seniors to continue living in these independent living facilities.

Exterior improvements included new pitched roofs and chimneys, new living-room windows, and replacement of some doors. Interior improvements included new kitchen countertops, floor coverings, bathroom enhancements and replacement of some furnaces.

Another important initiative in 2000 was the completion of renovations to the Boychuk Apartments in North Battleford. SHC purchased the 60-unit apartment block in 1999 to ensure it would remain part of the city's affordable housing inventory. Renovations included the replacement of siding, windows, and doors, as well as the creation of a playground behind the building.

Churchill Place, Hudson Bay

The Churchill Place initiative in Hudson Bay was a joint project of the town, SHC, the Hudson Bay Housing Authority, and Hudson Bay School Division No. 52. Semi-detached units from throughout the community of Hudson Bay were relocated to the former Blake Beattie school site.

The facility was officially opened in November, 2000, consisting of 22 units for independent seniors. Renovations were made to the interior and exterior of the buildings, and two of the units were modified to meet the needs of persons with disabilities. The units are linked together by a corridor, which leads to a large common area where tenants enjoy recreational and social activities.

The Churchill Place project, in conjunction with the 14 remaining semi-detached seniors' housing units in Hudson Bay, will allow the Hudson Bay Housing Authority to better foster independence by offering seniors the choice of congregate living housing or semi-detached housing.

Churchill Place has made it possible in the future to offer Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services to residents (see SALS program description on page 8).

Seniors' housing in Humboldt

Seniors' housing in Humboldt received a boost in 2000 with the development of a 25-unit seniors' project in that city. As part of this project, two existing row-style apartment buildings were joined to an existing three-story apartment building on the same site through the construction of a common hallway. Seven new units and a common amenity area were also built. The installation of an elevator improved accessibility to the three-story building.

▲ The City of Yorkton hosted the 2000 Saskatchewan Summer Games in July. A number of seniors living in social housing facilities in that city displayed their community spirit by volunteering to prepare the athlete kits for the games' participants.

Kitchens, bathrooms and doorways were modified in three units to improve accessibility for people with mobility challenges.

The increased number of units and improvements on the site will facilitate the offering of Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services to tenants in the future.

Boundary Manor renovations, Estevan

The exterior of Boundary Manor in Estevan received a major facelift in 2000. The two-story, 12-suite building was built in the mid-1980s as part of the affordable housing portfolio, which provides suitable housing for families and individuals with household incomes below that to which the market is adequately responding.

The facelift included the replacement of the old siding with stucco, the installation of new insulation, windows, flashings, soffits, fascia, rain gutters and downspouts, as well as the rejuvenation of the second-floor decks.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN THE NORTH

Meeting the needs of northerners

SHC renewed its commitment to address housing needs in the north with the announcement in February, 2000 of a three-year $9 million funding package. This succeeded the three-year northern housing package which ended in December, 1999.

The renewed funding demonstrates that the Province is committed to meeting housing needs of northerners. The money will help a variety of housing initiatives in the north, such as promoting home ownership, stimulating the rental market and the repair of existing homes.

The funding package followed a series of consultations with northerners to find out what their housing needs were. The consultations were held in the spring of 1999, with a final report distributed throughout the north a few months later.

The renewed funding commitment was welcome news to the north, where more than 400 qualified applicants are currently on the waiting list for housing. Following the funding announcement, SHC continued to work with northern leaders to determine how the money would best be utilized to provide housing and help develop the housing market.

Northern Rental Purchase Option (NRPO)

The new Rental Purchase Option program evolved out of the consultations with northerners, and shows SHC is listening. SHC determined that people in the north want to own their own homes, and developed a program option that would help them accomplish this.

The Rental Purchase Option was implemented in 2000 to provide people who rent social housing in the north with assistance to buy the homes in which they currently live. Under the program, people renting from SHC can apply for a grant to assist them in buying the home.

The renter is responsible for the remaining balance, which they usually obtain by applying to a financial institution. The program was designed for people who have rented the same house for six years or more.

New rental housing in La Loche and Ile-à-la-Crosse

In July, SHC and the Village of Ile-à-la-Crosse officially opened a new eight-unit apartment complex in that community. Also in July, SHC opened 26 new homes in La Loche. Most of the work in Ile-à-la-Crosse and La Loche was tendered to northern contractors and both projects exceeded SHC's objectives for using local labour in the construction. The Ile-à-la-Crosse project was made possible through a grant under the Rental Market Assistance Program.

Social Housing Management Training Program

Another important initiative in the north in 2000 was the continuation of the Social Housing Management Training Program, which began in November, 1999. The purpose of the program is to enhance the managerial and administrative capacity of aboriginal northern people, enabling them to assist in the management of northern social housing projects. The program is offered in concert with several northern housing authorities and one non-profit housing corporation.

The Social Housing Management Training Program offers a combination of classroom and on-site training, direct work experience, as well as regular progress evaluations over a two-year period. By the end of the program, trainees will have acquired the knowledge and skills necessary for employment as property managers. Trainees will receive an Applied Certificate in Property Management upon successful completion of the program.

The program currently has five trainees—one each in the communities of La Ronge, La Loche, Buffalo Narrows, Beauval and Cumberland House. Five housing authority managers are also enrolled in the program. The trainees and managers are expected to graduate in December, 2001.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

A number of environmental pressures affect SHC operations, including the necessity to reduce water and energy consumption and greenhouse gas emissions, manage waste, and maintain indoor air quality. SHC has implemented a number of environmental initiatives in recent years to ensure the health and safety of its clientele and improve efficiency of building systems, thereby reducing operating costs and protecting the environment.

SHC continues to conduct energy audits of various multi-unit high-rise buildings to improve energy efficiency and protect our environment. Enhancements resulting from these audits include lighting upgrades, review and redesign of ventilation systems, various maintenance measures aimed at improving heating system efficiency, fuel conversions, and water conservation measures. By year-end, about 50 per cent of the work was complete. Energy savings from the 13 buildings reviewed exceed $150,000 annually.

Energy-efficient lighting upgrades continue to have the single best potential for reducing energy costs in the short term. An initiative to replace all incandescent exit lighting in SHC buildings with energy-efficient lighting is expected to save $45,800 per year. This initiative alone will result in a reduction of approximately 500 tonnes of carbon dioxide emissions.

We have also trained SHC and housing authority staff to respond to opportunities to maintain and improve indoor air quality, as well as make heating and air distribution systems more efficient.

In September, tenants from Davidson Manor, Ruth Whyte Manor, and the Valleyview Towers, North Battleford Housing Authority, visited the "crooked trees" bluff near Speers, as well as the scenic Whitetail Resort near Whitkow.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE WITH TECHNOLOGY

The upgrading and integration of SHC and housing authority computer systems, better known as Project Millennium, moved several steps closer to fruition in 2000. The project will provide housing authorities and SHC with an integrated system to facilitate enhanced reporting, budgeting and operational planning.

This initiative to replace the existing, outdated systems with an integrated, modern technology reached a number of milestones in 2000. A business needs analysis was completed in the spring. The project was tendered in June and the responses were evaluated in the fall.

"The chosen software provides the flexibility to tailor and augment the product to meet our business needs," explains Ian Laidlaw, project manager.

Flexibility is crucial, given that SHC is "spread out" geographically and also has a diverse number of programs, which must be accommodated. It will take into 2002 to implement the software package due to the complexities of adapting the software to the unique business requirements of SHC and the automated housing authorities.

"We need to ensure people are comfortable with the new system!" Ian says. "The implementation is going to be a major change and we need to respect that."

People make Project Millennium a success

A big reason Project Millennium has been so successful thus far is the hard work and dedication of staff across the housing system. An example of exceptional staff who make important contributions to the project is Marg Kardash, who serves as the project's executive assistant, facilitating the participation of more than one hundred people. Besides editing and distributing the project newsletter that keeps everyone informed, Marg arranged all the facilities for the working groups involved in various stages of the project.

"We held a number of software demonstrations in late November, which involved 30 or more people each," Ian says. "These demonstrations were critical to the outcome of the project and were organized very successfully and efficiently by Marg. I can't imagine how we could have achieved so many milestones without Marg's enthusiastic support."

PEOPLE MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Rupen Pandya (right) and other members of the 2000 United Way Committee, Municipal Affairs, Culture and Housing.

Rupen Pandya

Since joining SHC in 1997, Rupen Pandya has assumed a wide range of activities and initiatives with enthusiasm and vigor. In any committee work or team meeting, Rupen can be counted on to contribute an array of interesting ideas and thoughtful analysis.

In 2000, Rupen was especially busy. He was effective in developing and managing the housing consultation process with other government departments and key housing stakeholders.

Rupen has served on the United Way Committee at Municipal Affairs, Culture and Housing for the past three years, and he chaired the successful 2000 United Way campaign.

Rupen is also a member of the Project Millennium Steering Committee and SHC's strategic planning committee, assuming these challenges while maintaining his usual responsibilities.

Dave Desrosiers

A Contract Administrator/ Designer with SHC since November of 1993, Dave Desrosiers was diagnosed with multiple myeloma, a form of blood cancer, in March, 2000.

Following a bone marrow transplant in Vancouver in June, 2000, a month of quarantine, and several months of convalescence, Dave has been declared cancer free by his doctors and is looking forward to returning to work in June, 2001.

Dave says he had plenty of motivation to beat the disease. "My kids were my driving force. They needed a father." Dave and his wife, Shelley, have a six-year-old daughter and a three-year-old son.

Dave adds that the overwhelming response of his co-workers at SHC was another pillar of support as he waged the fight of his life.

"The people at SHC were behind me the whole way. I've never felt more loved and more needed in my life. I couldn't believe the number of phone calls and messages from co-workers. My family has grown ten-fold."

Rene Blom

Rene Blom has managed the Prince Albert Housing Authority for 13 years and is also very involved in his community.

Rene is especially proud of a couple of recent housing projects in Prince Albert. The first is the purchase and renovation of the Boychuk Apartments by SHC. "We've really turned those units around and now they're a major asset to the community." Rene says the more recent purchase and upcoming renovation of Cedar Village in Prince Albert will have a similar impact. Rene took an active role in the Providence Place project, which involved the relocation of several underutilized housing units from outside the city to the lot adjacent to the West Flat Community Center in Prince Albert. The units were renovated for occupancy by families and seniors.

Rene is also proud of the way Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services (SALS) has evolved in Prince Albert during his tenure. "The activity level of the seniors has really increased as a result of that program. There are a lot more seniors involved in the programming of activities in all of the buildings. The seniors are becoming much more connected to their community as a result of SALS."

In addition to his regular duties as housing authority manager, Rene also sits on the Prince Albert Mayor's Committee on Housing and is a board member of the Abbeyfield Houses Society of Prince Albert.

Jim Wasilenko

Jim Wasilenko, General Manager of the Saskatoon Housing Authority, also serves as Chair of the City of Saskatoon's Social Housing Advisory Committee. His leadership with this Committee resulted in a successful pilot project to demonstrate to the home builders that affordable housing is a market waiting to be served. Jim is also Chair of the Project Millennium Steering Committee.

Jim says his management philosophy is straightforward. "Tenants are customers and, as customers, their satisfaction is vital to our success." Fundamental to his leadership is "the realization it is people who are dedicated and motivated who will achieve excellence."

Jim has been directly responsible for a number of community initiatives in Saskatoon over the years. Most recently, he developed a partnership to bring a third subsidized childcare to social housing in that city. He also facilitated the development of the Families First program to enhance childcare for families living in poverty.

Jim is also a committee member of Saskatoon Communities for Children, a board member of the Saskatoon Housing Initiative Partnership (SHIP), and a board member of the Saskatoon Foundation. The latter organization is an endowment fund that provides grants to community initiatives—including a grant for a mentorship program for SHC's Neighbourhood Home Ownership Program (NHOP).

Dale Green

Dale Green, Manager of the Meadow Lake Housing Authority, was named Meadow Lake's Citizen of the Year for 2000. The award recognizes Dale's extensive community involvement over the years.

He has chaired the Northwest Health District Board for the past three years and was very involved in the fund-raising committee for Meadow Lake's new health facility, which opened in the summer of 2000.

"Getting involved in your community should be a priority for everyone," Dale encourages.

Among his many community activities over the years, Dale says his 10 years as a ringette coach is a highlight. Dale is also a member of the Meadow Lake Lions Club and sits on the Meadow Lake Interagency Committee.

FUTURE DIRECTIONS

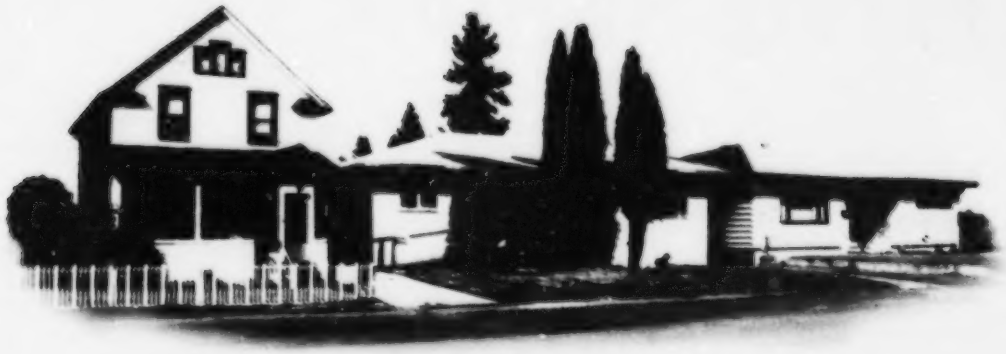
In the future, SHC will continue to collaborate with people, communities and other stakeholders on housing issues. Examples include a life lease project (similar to Arbor Green in Saskatoon and Benson Manor in Regina) which is currently being developed in collaboration with the City of Yorkton, as well as a new housing development for seniors that involves SHC, the community of Shaunavon, and several surrounding municipalities.

Stakeholder consultations have been an indispensable part of the development of a provincial housing strategy and we look forward to strengthening our ties with communities and local organizations. We will continue to work with northern leaders to prioritize housing needs in the north.

A significant future challenge is that more than 46,000 households in Saskatchewan remain in need of housing assistance. SHC will work hard in 2001 and beyond to develop sustainable solutions. Maintaining the province's existing housing stock will continue to be a top priority, and SHC will take a long-term view with respect to its financial framework.

The future of housing in Saskatchewan requires that we continue to work together. We have learned to develop "made in Saskatchewan" approaches and solutions that will serve this province well in the years ahead.

We have learned to do more with what we have, as well as the value of increased independence and flexibility at the local level. We will continue to forge new partnerships at the same time as we strengthen old ones. These new and enhanced partnerships will enable SHC to lever human, financial and other resources for the benefit of the people of Saskatchewan.



FINANCIAL

FINANCIAL PERSPECTIVES

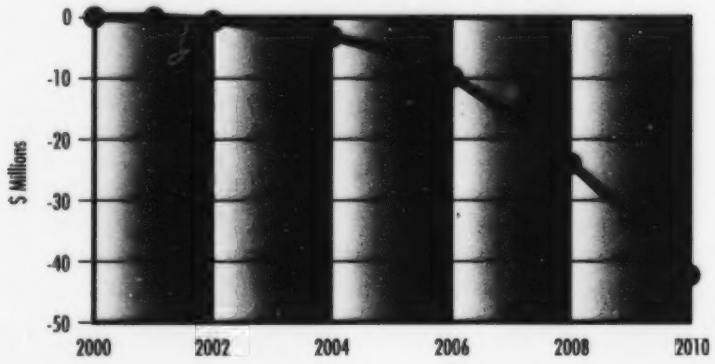
Building Partnerships – Delivery and Funding of Creative Housing Solutions

Saskatchewan Housing Corporation, in partnership with housing authorities, housing co-operatives, non-profit agencies, private landlords, and the federal and municipal levels of government, delivers creative housing solutions to provide affordable, quality housing for Saskatchewan people.

SHC's clients, and all levels of government, provide funding for its operations. Clients contribute through payment of affordable rents or rents geared to their ability to pay, and through cost recovery charges for Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services. Municipalities contribute to the ongoing operation of existing housing units and share in the cost of construction of new housing.

The Province of Saskatchewan provides an annual operating grant to SHC, and also, beginning in 2000 for four years, funding from the Centenary Fund for social housing initiatives. The Corporation was allocated $20 million from the Centenary Fund over a four-year period. In 2000, $8.95 million was committed to projects to provide senior and family housing.

Cumulative Decline in Federal Funding



The federal government provides a pre-determined amount of funding, based on 1995-96 actual expenditures, for social and affordable housing built before 1997. This funding decreases each year until 2038. Repair programs are cost-shared through a separate agreement between the federal government and SHC.

Towards a Sustainable Portfolio

Like any other public or private-sector organization, SHC must manage risks that could affect its ability to provide housing and housing services. Examples of risks include declining federal funding, inflationary pressures on operating expenses, and increasing interest rates. SHC is taking proactive steps to mitigate these risks to ensure the sustainability of its housing portfolio over the long term.

Management Strategies – Budget Targets and Financial Forecasts

To ensure sustainability of its existing operations within an environment of fixed and declining federal funding, SHC implemented budget targets. Through the efforts of the housing authorities and non-profit sponsors of housing, the targets have been met.

However, a number of factors challenged the housing network's ability to meet these targets in 2000, and will continue to do so in the future. Property management expenditures, such as for utilities and property taxes, are increasing while rent revenue remains relatively stable. As the housing stock ages, additional resources are required to maintain it to an acceptable standard. In certain communities there is low demand for social and affordable housing, which means decreased rents due to vacant units.

To understand the implications of these risks, SHC develops financial forecasts which incorporate changing economic conditions, and changes in programs. These forecasts provide valuable information to allow SHC to develop strategies on how to best use the deferred federal contributions arising in the early years of the Social Housing Agreement to sustain the housing portfolio over the long run.

Management Strategies – Interest Rate Risk

Increases in interest rates pose a financial risk in terms of debt-servicing charges on SHC's debt. Debt-servicing charges totaled $32.5 million in 2000, and represented 20% of SHC's total expenses. These charges are for the interest and amortization expense associated with debt-financed housing assets, which have a net book value of $257 million. Debt-servicing charges will be experienced over the useful lives of these assets.

By careful monitoring of its cash flows, SHC does not take on more debt than is required to meet its obligations. This strategy minimizes the interest portion of debt-servicing charges. In addition, SHC has benefited from opportunities to refinance its debt at lower interest rates.

SHC is also subject to interest rate risk in relation to subsidies provided to non-profit sponsors of housing. The currently favourable interest rates reduce debt-servicing expenses for the non-profit sponsors. This, in turn, lowers the amount of subsidy required from the Corporation.

The risk to the Corporation is minimal if the interest rate environment continues to be favourable. However, if rates increase, SHC's interest expense and subsidies paid to housing sponsors will also increase, thus creating additional financial pressure.

Funding for Housing Programs

* In addition to the federal contributions reflected in SHC's consolidated financial statements, the federal government funds its own debt-servicing costs related to social housing projects located in Saskatchewan.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements of Saskatchewan Housing Corporation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared by management, which is responsible for the reliability, integrity and objectivity of the information provided. The statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada. Where necessary the statements include amounts based on informed judgements and estimates by management, giving appropriate consideration to reasonable limits of materiality. In the opinion of management, the statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of Saskatchewan Housing Corporation. Financial information presented elsewhere in this annual report is consistent with the consolidated financial statements.

Management designs and maintains the Corporation's accounting system and related system of internal controls, and performs reviews of the controls and operations, to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are properly authorized and recorded, assets are safeguarded, and financial records are properly maintained to provide reliable information.

The consolidated financial statements have been approved by the Corporation's Board and by Treasury Board and have been examined by an external auditor appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council. The responsibility of the external auditor, KPMG LLP, is to report to the Members of the Legislative Assembly regarding the fairness of presentation of the Corporation's financial position, results of operations and cash flows as shown in the consolidated financial statements. The Auditor's Report outlines the scope of their examination and opinion.

Auditor's Report

To the Members of the Legislative Assembly, Province of Saskatchewan

We have audited the consolidated balance sheet of the Saskatchewan Housing Corporation as at December 31, 2000, and the consolidated statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at December 31, 2000, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Saskatchewan Housing Corporation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

December 31, 2000

Note 1: Status of the Corporation

The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation is a Treasury Board Crown Corporation which operates under the authority of The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation Act.

The Corporation's general objectives are to undertake, facilitate, and promote measures which will contribute to the availability of adequate and affordable housing for all Saskatchewan residents, and in particular the provision of housing for senior citizens, families, the disabled and other groups or persons who require assistance. The Corporation also undertakes, facilitates and promotes measures to repair, rehabilitate and make improvements to housing.

Pursuant to provisions of Section 36 of The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation Act, the Corporation receives operating contributions from the Government of Saskatchewan - General Revenue Fund. As a Provincial Crown Corporation, the Corporation is not subject to federal income tax, provincial income tax or federal large corporations tax.

Note 2: Significant Accounting Policies

The policies used in preparing the Corporation's consolidated financial statements are in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Saskatchewan Housing Corporation and public housing authorities controlled by the Corporation.

Housing authorities are incorporated bodies with no share capital, established by ministerial order pursuant to subsection 18 (1) of The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation Act. They provide community-based management of housing projects. Housing authorities are controlled by the Corporation by virtue of the fact that the Minister-in-charge of the Corporation has the legislative authority to appoint the members of each housing authority. Also, subsection 18 (9) of The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation Act provides that housing authorities must comply with policies established by the Corporation.

Transactions and account balances between the Corporation and housing authorities have been eliminated in these consolidated financial statements.

Revenue recognition

The Corporation follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Provincial operating contributions provided through the Department of Municipal Affairs, Culture and Housing are unrestricted in nature, subject only to the broad provisions of Section 36 of The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation Act. Accordingly, these contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which they are received.

Saskatchewan Housing Corporation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Federal contributions provided by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) are restricted in accordance with provisions of the Social Housing Agreement (note 7) and other agreements. Accordingly, federal contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenditures are incurred. Federal contributions used or committed toward capital investments in housing projects are allocated to Deferred federal contributions - capital assets, and are recognized as revenue on the same basis as the amortization of the related housing projects.

Other contributions that are restricted for a specified use, including Centenary Fund contributions (note 8), are deferred and are recognized as revenue as the related expenditures are incurred.

Sales of land intended for single family residential development are recorded at the earlier of receipt of total proceeds or completion of the first floor joist stage of construction. Other land sales are recorded at the earlier of receipt of total sale proceeds or the date by which all material conditions required of the vendor as specified in the sales agreement have been satisfied, and effective control of the property has passed to the purchaser.

The cost of land sales is allocated in proportion to anticipated revenue for each project.

Grants and subsidies

Grant expenditures are recognized when an application for assistance has been approved and performance requirements have been met by the client.

Subsidy assistance is provided to non-profit housing sponsors and co-operatives in accordance with project operating agreements, which set forth the basis on which eligibility for subsidy assistance will be determined. Subsidy expenditures in a particular year are recorded based on actual or estimated costs incurred by each housing sponsor in the year.

Investment in housing projects

Investment in housing projects is carried at cost (which includes land, development, construction, administrative and carrying costs), less accumulated amortization. The recorded cost of certain projects is net of amounts provided by CMHC and municipalities in consideration for an ownership interest in the housing projects.

Debt-financed housing projects are amortized on the sinking fund basis using an interest rate of 7%. Other housing projects are amortized on a straight-line basis. Projects are amortized over periods of up to forty years.

Land

Land is recorded at the lower of net realizable value and cost (which includes acquisition, development, administrative and carrying costs).

Interest capitalization

Interest is capitalized on debt-financed housing and land projects at rates established at individual project commitment dates, based on approximate market rates at the time.

Mortgages and loans

Mortgages and loans are recorded at cost less an allowance for impairment. Cost includes amounts advanced, accrued interest and other charges, less repayments and subsidies.

The allowance for impairment consists of specific provisions for loans considered to be impaired and a general provision for other potential future credit losses. The allowance is determined on the basis of a review of individual clients' loan payment records. Generally, management considers a loan to be impaired if there is no longer reasonable assurance of timely collection of the full amount of principal and interest. Management also takes into consideration the estimated realizable value of mortgage security where applicable.

Cash and cash equivalents (short-term indebtedness)

Cash and cash equivalents (short-term indebtedness) consists of cash on hand, balances with banks, and investments in money market instruments, net of outstanding cheques. Cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates market value.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenditures during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Uncertainty in the determination of the amount at which an item is recognized in the financial statements is known as measurement uncertainty. Measurement uncertainty that is material to these financial statements exists in determining the economic useful life of housing projects, the valuation of land held for future development, and the valuation of mortgages and loans. In determining the recognized amounts for amortization of investments in housing projects and for asset valuation allowances, the Corporation performs periodic assessments of prevailing business and economic conditions. Management believes that the recognized amounts are unlikely to change by a material amount in the near term.

The carrying amount of Investment in housing projects is dependent upon the continued receipt of contributions from the Government of Saskatchewan - General Revenue Fund and from CMHC.

Housing investment represents the Corporation's ownership interest in housing projects constructed or acquired pursuant to partnership agreements. The Corporation's cost is net of amounts provided by CMHC and municipalities in consideration for an ownership interest in the housing projects.

The Corporation and CMHC have executed a Declaration of Trust by which the Corporation is trustee for CMHC's ownership interest in partnership and 100% CMHC-owned housing projects. CMHC's ownership interest will be earned by the Corporation over the remainder of each project's CMHC subsidy commitment period, in amounts which correspond to CMHC's annual amortization of the assets. Accordingly, no increase in capital assets was recorded by the Corporation.

Balance, end of year	$ 53,062	$ 40,061

Pursuant to the Social Housing Agreement executed by the Corporation and CMHC, which took effect on January 1, 1997, CMHC will pay fixed annual contributions to the Corporation over the remainder of the CMHC subsidy commitment period for individual housing projects. The Agreement provides that at least a specified amount of the annual federal contributions must be applied toward housing programs which assist low-income households, as defined in the Agreement. The portion of federal contributions that may be applied toward other housing programs within the scope of the Agreement is similarly specified. Unexpended federal contributions must be carried forward by the Corporation for use toward expenditures of future periods. Such contributions must be fully used, in accordance with the Agreement, by the Funding Expiration Date of December 31, 2038.

Profits earned on land development projects are distributed according to agreements with municipalities, which specify the percentage of profits to be transferred to a holding account for social or recreational development in the municipalities, or for other purposes as deemed appropriate by the Corporation. Individual project balances are subject to release pending determination of final costs, receipt of the last lot sale proceeds, and approval by the Corporation.

Replacement Reserve

The Corporation makes an internal restriction of net assets each year to provide for replacement of appliances and for building renovations. As expenditures are incurred they are charged to operations, with a corresponding reduction to the reserve balance. For 2000, the expenditures exceeded the annual provision by $342,000 (1999 - $134,000).

Rejuvenation Commitments

The Corporation and public housing authorities controlled by the Corporation enter into contracts for rejuvenation of housing projects. An internal restriction of net assets has been made to reflect outstanding commitments under rejuvenation contracts as of December 31, 2000.

Saskatchewan Housing Corporation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Northern Initiatives

Pursuant to a multi-year strategy for the delivery of housing initiatives in northern Saskatchewan, net assets have been internally restricted to provide forgivable loans to low-income families and to developers for the construction of home ownership and rental accommodation, respectively, and to enable low-income homeowners to undertake necessary home repairs.

Risk Reserve

The Social Housing Agreement between CMHC and the Corporation provided for a one-time contribution of $11,700,000, which was received in 1997. This amount plus interest has been internally restricted for mitigating operating risks associated with the Corporation's financial responsibility for housing programs transferred from CMHC pursuant to the Agreement, and for mitigating property risks associated with housing projects.

Note 12: Financial Instruments

Credit risk

Accounts receivable consist primarily of amounts due from CMHC, federal Goods and Services Tax rebates, deposit accounts and amounts due from non-profit housing sponsors, which in aggregate represent 75% (1999 - 66%) of balances outstanding. Credit risk on these accounts is minimal.

Credit risk arises from the possibility that tenants might be unable to fulfill their lease commitments. Public housing authorities mitigate this risk by conducting rental reference checks prior to tenant placement, through well defined procedures for addressing rent arrears, and by limiting the exposure to credit loss for any one tenant.

Credit risk also arises from the possibility that borrowers might default on their contractual loan obligations. Credit exposure on mortgages and loans is managed through appropriate account administration.

Mortgage guarantees provided by the Corporation are in respect of mortgages advanced to individual homeowners, except for mortgages totalling $3,096,000 (1999 - $3,269,000) which were advanced to the sponsors of certain seniors' housing projects. The mortgages were advanced during 1986 and 1987, are being amortized through monthly payments and mature at various dates to the year 2023. Management believes that credit risk on these guarantees is minimal, due to the maturity of the mortgage portfolio.

Interest rate risk

The interest rate on most mortgages and loans is renewed annually, except for impaired loans and certain residential rehabilitation loans, which were written at a fixed interest rate of 8.875% and mature over a period ending in the year 2002. Interest rates on 2000 renewals ranged from 7.35% to 8.18% (1999 - 6.20% to 7.35%).

The Corporation manages interest rate risk on debt by obtaining long-term advances through the General Revenue Fund at fixed interest rates.

Fair value of financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments represents an approximation of amounts that would have been received or paid, calculated at the reporting date, to settle these instruments prior to maturity. Carrying amounts of financial instruments represent actual amounts recorded in the consolidated balance sheet.

The fair value of accounts receivable, cash and cash equivalents (short-term indebtedness), and accounts payable and accruals approximates the carrying amount of these instruments due to the short period to maturity. There are no significant terms or conditions related to these financial instruments that may affect the amount, timing or certainty of future cash flows.

For other financial instruments, the carrying amounts and fair values are as follows (thousands):

	2000		1999
	Carrying Amount	Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Fair Value
Mortgages and loans	$ 4,826	$ 4,781	$ 4,970	$ 4,895
Long-term debt	181,062	187,943	192,354	204,104
Mortgage guarantees (note 15)	—	—	—	—

The fair value of mortgages and loans, other than impaired accounts, is based on the present value of future cash flows discounted at the December 31 market rate of interest for like instruments with a similar term to renewal or maturity, as applicable. For impaired mortgages and loans, fair value approximates the carrying amount.

The fair value of long-term debt is based on the present value of future cash flows discounted at the December 31 market rate of interest for Province of Saskatchewan or Government of Canada debt instruments with a similar maturity date, as applicable.

The fair value of mortgage guarantees is not reported as it is not practically determinable, since there is no market for these guarantees.

Interest incurred includes $23,265,000 (1999 - $25,067,000) paid during the year, $2,185,000 (1999 - $1,490,000) credited to Deferred federal contributions and $62,000 (1999 - $47,000) credited to the Land profits holding account, less a reduction in accruals of $808,000 (1999 - $713,000).

Note 15: Contingencies

Saskatchewan Mortgage Guarantee Program

During 1986 and 1987 the Corporation provided mortgage guarantees to lenders financing certain new housing construction. As at December 31, 2000, a total of 78 (1999 - 95) mortgage guarantees were in effect, and the outstanding balance of mortgages guaranteed was $6,265,000 (1999 - $7,495,000).

Note 16: Commitments

The Corporation had the following commitments as at December 31, 2000:

(a) Housing project construction and acquisitions of $3,947,000;

(b) Land development expenditures of $2,556,000;

(c) Rejuvenation expenditures of $804,000;

(d) Grants and subsidies:

The Corporation has issued commitments under various programs for grants or ongoing subsidy assistance to individual homeowners, developers, landlords, co-operatives and non-profit sponsors of housing. As at December 31, 2000 the Corporation's commitments for grants for which performance requirements have not been met by clients totalled $1,672,000. An estimate of the cost of ongoing subsidy assistance for the next five years is as follows (thousands):

2001	2002	2003	2004	2005
$23,100	$22,800	$22,600	$22,500	$22,100

Certain of the agreements for ongoing assistance have remaining terms of up to 29 years. However, uncertainty regarding future interest rates and other economic factors precludes reasonable estimation of the Corporation's obligations for ongoing assistance beyond a five-year period.

Note 17: Related Party Transactions

Included in these consolidated financial statements are transactions with various Saskatchewan Crown corporations, departments, and boards related to the Corporation by virtue of common control by the Government of Saskatchewan.

Transactions with related parties in the normal course of operations are settled at prevailing market prices under normal trade terms. These transactions are not significant to the Corporation's consolidated operations or financial position except as described below.

Expenditures include services provided by Saskatchewan Power Corporation (SaskPower) totalling $4,221,000 (1999 - $4,201,000) and services provided by SaskEnergy Incorporated (SaskEnergy) totalling $4,731,000 (1999 - $4,014,000). Investment in land for the year ended December 31, 2000 includes SaskPower charges of $21,000 (1999 - $91,000) and SaskEnergy charges of $35,000 (1999 - $39,000). Accounts payable and accruals includes $221,000 (1999 - $213,000) payable to SaskPower and $291,000 (1999 - $186,000) payable to SaskEnergy.

The Corporation pays Saskatchewan Education and Health Tax on all its taxable purchases. Taxes paid are recorded as part of the cost of such purchases.

Interest expense incurred includes interest charges of $21,189,000 (1999 - $23,045,000) on long-term advances repayable to the General Revenue Fund. Accrued interest payable to the General Revenue Fund at December 31, 2000 totaled $4,222,000 (1999 - $5,027,000).

The Department of Municipal Affairs, Culture and Housing provides management services to the Corporation at no charge, except for amounts chargeable to housing operations in accordance with agreements between the Corporation and CMHC; such charges are based upon the Department's actual costs. These charges totalled $4,972,000 (1999 - $4,584,000) and are included in Expenditures. As at December 31, 2000, Accounts payable and accruals included $185,000 (1999 - $128,000) payable to the Department of Municipal Affairs, Culture and Housing on account of the above charges, as well as other administrative recoveries.

Other transactions with and amounts due to related parties are described separately in these consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto.
